Where the dreamer awakens

Cloth.love

We are a dreamtank.

We are a community co-creating a world in which women and all humans thrive.

We help people to look deeply at "wicked problems" and solve them through art and design. We make beautiful spaces that are accessible to the best thinkers. We connect people to themselves, one another, and a greater cause so that they can make dreams a reality.

Harvard Kennedy Mid-Career Cohort | Boston, MA | 10/2021

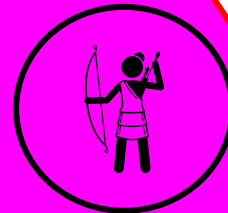

We are aligned with nature

We know we are strong.

We believe there is hope.

What do we need now?

- Collaborators who want to explore this model.
- Funding to build out small team to design experiments connecting people through art
- Academic collaboration to provide guidance and assess impact of experiments
- Space and resources for artists to co-create art

Thank you!
